CLASS DESCRIPTIONS:

Level 1 Programs:

-Strength for Life: The program will focus on coaching participants to move properly, add resistance, and in turn gain overall strength, power, and coordination as a foundation for an active life.

-Total Conditioning: The Total Conditioning Program is a Medium to High intensity class incorporating different variations of interval training aimed at producing muscular and cardiovascular endurance conditioning.

Level 2 Programs: (Coach Approval after free class trial, or Competent Completion of Level 1 Program Required to Participate)

-Barbell Strength: This program is designed to build strength, muscle, and power through structured training around the squat, bench press, and deadlift. Combining principles of powerlifting and hypertrophy, participants will develop a solid foundation of strength while increasing muscle size and improving overall performance.

-Women's Strength Training: This beginner to Intermediate level program is specifically designed to create a female-inclusive space where women will learn and work to increase strength, endurance, lean muscle mass, and neuromuscular performance.

Level 3 Programs: (Coach Approval after free class trial, or Competent Completion of Level 2 Program Required to Participate)

-Super Total: This unique program combines elements of strength training, and Olympic weightlifting, offering an all-encompassing training experience for individuals seeking to maximize their physical potential and Olympic Weightlifting technique.

-MetCon: Metabolic Resistance Training Program that challenges participants to increase their metabolic rate using barbell, dumbbell, kettlebell and other strength-based exercises with proper form through a medium to high intensity pace.

Family Turf Time: Family Turf Time is a time where parents can use the area with their children ages 7 + yrs of age. Children ages 7-10 are not allowed to use weight or cardio equipment in the turf area. Please ask fitness staff what equipment children ages 7-10 can use.
